

Employer Newsletter January 2009, Issue 12

We understand the many demands upon your time, one of which is dealing with the issues related to your and your employees' superannuation requirements.

As a participating employer of Catholic Super, you will probably be aware of changes we have made in recent times, to ensure you will have a trouble-free experience with us and the administrative requirements of superannuation.

We are introducing a further two innovations as explained in this newsletter.

- One is the capacity for you or a new employer to enrol for EmployerAccess online.
- Another benefit for you is assistance from a dedicated Employer Services Manager. This service has been introduced to help you resolve any problems which may arise in connection with your Catholic Super employer account.

Our Employer Services Manager is John Frogley. Not a newcomer to Catholic Super, John has been with the fund for about five and a half years and brings a wealth of experience to his new role. He is a Certified Financial Planner and until recently has been assisting members of Catholic Super with their planning requirements. John's new role is not only to assist you but also to act as an advocate for employers.

The provision of employee superannuation is considered as a major benefit by an employer. Unfortunately, this benefit is often not given due recognition for the important role it plays in providing financial security for the employee and his/her family in the lead up to and in retirement.

John would like to meet with participating employers to discuss the important part that you play in your employees' lives with the provision of the superannuation benefit and, how you may be able to use this benefit more effectively in your business to recruit, maintain and retain your valuable staff resource.

Whether your need is one of a general or specific nature, then John is available to assist with any questions you may have about superannuation or the employer process we provide at Catholic Super.

John can be contacted by phone or email or he will happily travel to meet with you at your business should you require. His contact details are as follows:

- Telephone: 03 9648 4704
- Mobile: 0409 003 433
- Fax: 03 0648 4720
- Email: jfrogley@csf.com.au
